DEPARTMENT HEAD SIGNATURE
James R. English, City Attorney

Attachment 2 (p. 1 of 25)
This is a non-adjudicatory settlement and expedited hearing procedure. A special Master may not impose a decision, but primarily explores opportunities for compromise and assists the parties in negotiation. Settlement through the special master process is intended to save time and money for everyone.

If a settlement is not reached, the special master will conduct an independent and impartial assessment of the dispute and prepare a non-binding recommendation.

The Special Master Proceeding is intended to be a speedy, inexpensive, simple, and solution-oriented method for settlement of land use and environmental disputes. As much as possible, a landowner and regulator meet face to face and discuss issues directly without the need for advocacy by a lawyer. It is anticipated that the City will not be represented by an attorney in most Special Master Proceedings. However, if any other party is represented in a Special Master Proceeding by an attorney, the City may also have an attorney present. The special master and parties should adapt the procedures outlined in this policy to the needs of each case, consistent with the requirements of law.

A. DEFINITIONS:

Prior to initiating a special master proceeding, the owner must request review through a request for formal proceedings or must file appeals as authorized by the City Code but the review or appeal may take no longer than four months. The filing of a valid request for formal proceedings or appeal will toll the time for filing a request for relief.

The City Attorney shall promptly transmit the request to the appropriate Assistant City Manager, who shall convene such a meeting promptly and include staff necessary to address the owner's concerns.

2. The City may agree with the owner in writing to extend the time for filing a request for relief or judicial proceeding to create an opportunity for mediation or other form of alternative dispute resolution.

f. All PPRs shall agree to abide by decisions of special masters relating to procedures in the conduct of hearings, facilitation and negotiation sessions, and the like.

g. A failure to abide by these standards may result in a dismissal of the proceedings by the special master as to the offending party.

3. The parties and the Special Master may establish additional standards of conduct in a Special Master Agreement as authorized by Paragraph G herein. In addition, the City Commission may establish from time to time additional standards of conduct for the Special Master and PPRs.

1. No more than 15 days after the filing of a request for relief, the department head of the department responsible for the development order or enforcement action shall file a response to the request for relief with the special master on behalf of the City. 3. The response may include a request that the special master dismiss the owner's request for relief for any failure to observe this policy. If the request is dismissed, the owner shall be permitted to file an amended request within a reasonable time fixed by the special master. Failure to file an adequate amended request within the time specified by the special master shall result in final dismissal of the matter without the right to submit another request. Final dismissal may not be appealed to the City Commission.

4. Any party may request, in its response or otherwise, a request to be dropped from the proceeding. The request must set forth facts and circumstances to aid the special master in deciding on the request. All such requests must be disposed of prior to a hearing on the substance of the owner's request for relief. If the special master denies a request to be dropped, that party shall participate in the proceeding.

J. ADDITIONAL PARTIES TO THE PROCEEDING

1. The special master may add additional governmental entities as parties to the proceeding when:
   a. The owner or the City asks the special master to add that governmental entity to the proceeding as a party; and

2. A governmental entity added as a party shall actively participate in the proceeding as set forth in these Guidelines and as required by the special master.

3. A governmental entity added as a party shall be a party to the Special Master Agreement, and shall bear its share of the costs and expenses of the Special Master Proceedings.

3. The special master may decide any issue necessary to determine whether a person qualifies as a participant. If the special master accepts a request to participate, the person or any witnesses and representatives shall address only those issues raised regarding alternatives, variances, and other types of adjustment to the development order or enforcement action which may impact the participant's substantial interests, unless the parties and the special master agree to allow a participant to address additional issues. Denial of a request to participate may not be appealed to the City Commission.

1. If there are separate matters which involve similar issues or identical parties, they may be consolidated if the parties agree and it appears that consolidation would promote the speedy, efficient, and inexpensive resolution of the matters.

2. The proceeding shall be open to the public and be held in a location accessible to the public, including the physically handicapped.

3. The proceeding shall be conducted under the direction and supervision of the special master. The special master shall determine the order of presentation of issues and information unless otherwise set forth in the special master agreement. The special master shall decide questions of procedure in a manner which provides reasonable due process.

4. Prior to any other portion of the proceeding, the special master shall conduct a hearing on any request to dismiss the request for relief.

5. At any time after commencement of the information-gathering hearing, the special master may recess the hearing to re-commence mediation and facilitation.

6. After the hearing, the special master may re-convene the parties to present a written recommendation, in draft or final form, and seek to re-commence negotiations.

O. MEDIATION PHASE

1. The special master's first responsibility is to facilitate a resolution of the dispute and arrive at a settlement acceptable to the parties. It may involve a modification of the owner's proposed use of the property or adjustment in the development order or enforcement action or regulatory efforts by one or more of the governmental parties.

2. The special master shall, among other things, suggest alternatives, analyze issues, question perceptions, use logic, stimulate and facilitate negotiations between the parties, and keep order. The special master at all times will promote conciliation, cooperation, compromise and settlement of the dispute within the bounds established by law.

3. As alternatives, variances, and other types of adjustments to the development order or enforcement action are presented, the special master shall afford participants an opportunity to address the impacts of such adjustments on their substantial interests.

P. INFORMATION GATHERING HEARING

1. Within 5 days after the special master receives the request for relief, the special master shall provide written notice of the place, date, and time of the hearing to all parties, and to all persons who have requested such notice.

4. The special master shall weigh all information offered at the hearing. Information shall not be subject to the rules of evidence, but the criteria for determining and the determination of verification and authentication are within the special master's discretion.

5. At any time, the special master may require any party to provide additional information in the interest of gaining a complete understanding of the request for relief.

6. Each party may record the hearing at its own expense. The special master may record the hearing to assist in preparing a recommendation as required by Paragraph U. If the special master makes such a recording, it shall be forwarded to the City with the recommendation but shall be subject to the restrictions on information contained in Paragraph S.

7. Any documents or tangible materials presented to the special master at hearing shall be submitted to the City Commission with the special master's recommendation. Any notes or drafts produced by the special master and not intended to record information in a permanent form shall remain the property of the special master.

Attachment 2 (p. 17 of 25)

1. Each party must assure attendance at the hearing by those persons qualified by training or experience to address issues raised by the request for relief, the response, or the special master, or to address alternatives, variances, and other types of modifications to the development order or enforcement action.

2. The special master may issue a subpoena for any nonparty witness in the state who will aid in the disposition of the matter. A subpoena issued by a special master may require the witness to bring a specified document or thing.

3. The special master may require and receive documents and other tangible materials from any party or participant. All parties and participants shall have the opportunity to examine and respond to such submissions.

4. The special master may weigh the credibility of witnesses.

5. Although an attorney is not required, any person compelled to appear or furnish documents or tangible materials, or who appears voluntarily, may be represented and advised by legal counsel at his or her own expense.

R. ACCESS TO THE PROPERTY

1. A request for relief constitutes a consent by the owner for the special master and parties or representatives to have reasonable access to the owner's land.

2. The owner may grant access to the land to participants, parties, or their representatives.
S. OFFER TO COMPROMISE

1. As provided by law:

   b. The proceeding may not be made known by a party or participant to any judicial or administrative tribunal, or be construed for any purpose as an admission against interest.

2. A party or participant is not bound by anything said or done during the proceeding unless a written settlement is reached, in which case only the terms of the written settlement shall be binding.

3. The special master may not be called to appear before the City Commission with respect to any aspect of the proceeding, nor may the special master be compelled to furnish notes or drafts.

2. A settlement agreement or other agreement as to the permissible use of the owner's land may be executed subject to approval by the City Commission. Any such agreement shall not bind any party until duly approved and executed by all parties to the agreement.

U. SPECIAL MASTER'S RECOMMENDATION

1. The special master shall file a recommendation with the City Commission within 14 days after the conclusion of the hearing. The special master shall furnish a copy to all parties and participants.

Attachment 2 (p. 19 of 25)

   b. Identify the parties and other participants in attendance at the hearing;
   c. Record, without comment, the fact that a settlement agreement or other agreement as to the permissible use of the owner's land has been executed; and
   d. Include as an attachment an executed copy of the settlement agreement or other agreement as to the permissible use of the owner's property.

3. If a settlement agreement or other agreement as to the permissible use of the owner's land is not executed prior to the filing of the special master's recommendation, the special master shall consider the facts and circumstances set forth in the request for relief, any responses, and any other information produced at the hearing to determine whether the development order or enforcement action, by itself or in conjunction with an action of the City or another governmental entity, is unreasonable or unfairly burdens the owner's land.

4. In making a determination, the special master may consider, among other things:
   a. The history of the land, including when it was purchased, how much was purchased, where it is located, the nature of the title, the composition of the property, and how it was previously used.
   b. The history of development and use of the land, including what was developed and by whom, if it was subdivided and how and to whom it was sold, whether plats were filed or recorded, and whether infrastructure and other public services or improvements may have been dedicated to the public.

d. The present nature and extent of the land, including natural and altered characteristics.

e. The reasonable expectations of the owner at the time of acquisition, or immediately prior to the implementation of the regulation at issue, whichever is later, under the regulations then in effect and under common law.

f. The public purpose sought to be achieved by the development order or enforcement action, including the nature and magnitude of the problem addressed by the underlying regulations on which the development order or enforcement action is based; whether the development order or enforcement action is necessary to the achievement of the public purpose; and whether there are alternative development order or enforcement action conditions that would achieve the public purpose and allow for reduced restrictions on the use of the owner's land.

g. Uses authorized for and restrictions placed on similar property, including adjacent lands.

h. Any other information determined to be relevant by the special master or agreed by the parties to be addressed by the special master.

5. The special master shall utilize his or her expertise in formulating a recommendation and, in applying this expertise, shall rely upon the sort of information that a reasonable, prudent person would rely upon in the conduct of his or her affairs.

6. If the special master determines the development order or enforcement action, by itself or in conjunction with another action the City or another governmental entity, is not unreasonable and does not unfairly burden the owner's land, the special master shall recommend that the development order or enforcement action remain undisturbed.

7. If the special master determines the development order or enforcement action, by itself or in conjunction with another action of the City or another governmental entity, is unreasonable or unfairly burdens the owner's property, and the owner has consented, the special master shall recommend one or more alternative actions that protect the public interest served by the regulations at issue but allow for reduced restraints on the use of the owner's real property. The alternatives may include:

   a. An adjustment of land development or permit standards or conditions controlling the development or use of the owner's land.

   b. Increases or modifications in the density, intensity, or use of areas of development.

If an apportionment of responsibility among governmental entities is necessary, the special master shall make such apportionment.

8. The special master shall furnish a copy of the written recommendation to the parties and to Florida Department of Legal Affairs.

9. The special master’s recommendation shall be a public record. A copy shall be available for public inspection and copying at the office of the Treasurer-Clerk of the City.

V. EFFECT OF SPECIAL MASTER’S RECOMMENDATION

1. The special master’s recommendation shall be advisory only and not binding on the owner or the City Commission.

2. A special master’s recommendation constitutes data which shall be considered with respect to any pertinent amendment to the comprehensive plan.

3. A special master’s determination that the development order or enforcement action, by itself or in conjunction with actions of the City or another governmental entity, is unreasonable or unfairly burdens the owner’s land shall constitute a determination of hardship which will support a modification, variance, or special exception as otherwise authorized by applicable rules and regulations.

W. DISPOSITION OF SPECIAL MASTER’S RECOMMENDATION

1. Within 45 days of receipt of the special master’s recommendation, the City Commission shall:

   a. Accept the recommendation as submitted and implement it in the ordinary course and consistent with all other rules and regulations.

   b. Modify the recommendation as submitted and implement it in the ordinary course and consistent with all other rules and regulations.
c. Reject the recommendation as submitted. Failure to act within 45 days of receipt of the recommendation shall be deemed a rejection, unless the owner and the City agree to an extension of time.

2. If the City Commission adopts a recommendation to grant a modification, variance, or special exception to the application of ordinances or regulations as they otherwise would apply to the land, the owner shall not be required to duplicate processes in which the owner previously has participated in order to effectuate the modification, variance or special exception.

3. If the special master recommends relief or other action in conjunction with another governmental entity, the City Attorney and appropriate staff from the City shall confer with appropriate staff from the other entities to review the recommendation and determine whether a joint staff recommendation can be made to the heads of the respective governmental entities.

4. Within 15 days after final action by the City Commission on the special master's recommendation, the Treasurer-Clerk shall send a copy of the order or other document memorializing final action to the Florida Department of Legal Affairs.

5. Within 10 days of final action on the recommendation, the owner shall notify the City Attorney in writing whether the owner accepts the decision on the recommendation.

6. If the City Commission accepts the recommendation or modifies it and the owner rejects the acceptance or modification, or if the City Commission rejects the recommendation, the City Commission shall issue a written decision that describes as specifically as possible the use or uses available on the owner's land. The decision shall be issued within 30 days of final action on the recommendation.

7. After the City Commission has acted on the recommendation and a written decision has been issued describing the use or uses available on the owner's land, or if the City Commission has not acted within 45 days, the owner may seek a formal adjudication on the development order or enforcement action as otherwise authorized by law.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. (1) This act may be cited as the "Bart J.
Harris, Jr., Private Property Rights Protection Act." The

CODE: Words stricken are deletions; words underlined are additions.
Legislature recognizes that some laws, regulations, and ordinances of the state and political entities in the state, as applied, may inordinately burden, restrict, or limit private property rights without assuming to a taking under the State Constitution or the United States Constitution. The legislature determines that there is an important state interest in protecting the interests of private property owners from such inordinate burdens. Therefore, it is in the intent of the legislature that, as a separate and distinct cause of action from the law of takings, the Legislature herein provides for relief, or payment of compensation, when a new law, rule, regulation, or ordinance of the state or a political entity in the state, as applied, unfairly affects real property.

(2) When a specific action of a governmental entity has inordinately burdened an existing use of real property or a vested right to a specific use of real property, the property owner of that real property is entitled to relief, which may include compensation for the actual loss to the fair market value of the real property caused by the action of government, as provided in this section.

(3) For purposes of this section:
(a) The existence of a "vested right" is to be determined by applying the principles of equitable estoppel or substantive due process under the common law or by applying the statutory law of this state.
(b) The term "existing use" means an actual, present use or activity on the real property, including periods of inactivity which are normally associated with, or are incidental to, the manner or type of use or activity of such reasonably foreseeable, nonexclusive land use which are suitable for the subject real property and compatible with adjacent land uses and which have created an existing fair market value in the property greater than the fair market value of the actual, present use or activity on the real property.

(c) The term "governmental entity" includes an agency of the state, a regional or local government created by the State Constitution or by general or special act, any county or municipality, or any other entity that independently exercises governmental authority. The term does not include the United States or any of its agencies, or an agency of the state, a regional or local government created by the State Constitution or by general or special act, any county or municipality, or any other entity that independently exercises governmental authority, when exercising the powers of the United States or any of its agencies through a formal delegation of Federal authority.

(d) The term "action of a governmental entity" means a specific action of a governmental entity which affects real property, including action on an application or permit.

(e) The terms "inordinate burden" or "inordinately burdened" mean that an action of one or more governmental entities has directly restricted or limited the use of real property such that the property owner is inordinately unable to attain the reasonable, investment-bounded expectations for the existing use of the real property or a vested right to a specific use of the real property with respect to the real property as a whole, or that the property owner is left with existing or vested uses that are unreasonable such that the property owner has permanently a disproportionately share of a burden imposed for the good of the public, which in fairness
should be borne by the public at large. The terms "inordinate burden" or "inordinately burdened" do not include temporary impacts to real property; impacts to real property occasioned by governmental statement, prohibition, prevention, or remediation of a public nuisance at common law or a nuisance use of private property; or impacts to real property caused by an action of a governmental entity taken to grant relief to a property owner under this section.

(f) The term "property owner" means the person who holds legal title to the real property at issue. The term does not include a governmental entity.

(g) The term "real property" means land and includes any appurtenances and improvements to the land, including any other relevant real property in which the property owner had a relevant interest.

(h)(a) Not less than 120 days prior to filing an action under this section against a governmental entity, a property owner who seeks compensation under this section must present the claim in writing to the head of the governmental entity. The property owner must submit, along with the claim, a bona fide, valid appraisal that supports the claim and demonstrates the loss in fair market value to the real property. If the action of a governmental entity is the culmination of a process that involves more than one governmental entity, or if a complete resolution of all relevant issues, in the view of the property owner or in the view of a governmental entity to which a claim is presented, requires the active participation of more than one governmental entity, the property owner shall present the claim as provided in this section to each of the governmental entities.

CODING: Words stricken are deletions; words underlined are additions.
9. Issuance of the development order, a variance, special exception, or other extraordinary relief.

10. Purchase of the real property, or an interest therein, by an appropriate governmental entity.

11. No changes to the action of the governmental entity.

If the property owner accepts the settlement offer, the governmental entity may implement the settlement offer by appropriate development agreement; by issuing a variance, special exception, or other extraordinary relief; or by other appropriate method, subject to paragraph (d).

(d)(1) Whenever a governmental entity enters into a settlement agreement under this section which would have the effect of a modification, variance, or a special exception to the application of a rule, regulation, or ordinance as it would otherwise apply to the subject real property, the relief granted shall protect the public interest served by the regulations at issue and be the appropriate relief necessary to prevent the governmental regulatory effort from inordinately burdening the real property.

(2) Whenever a governmental entity enters into a settlement agreement under this section which would have the effect of constraining the application of a statute as it would otherwise apply to the subject real property, the governmental entity and the property owner shall jointly file an action in the circuit court where the real property is located for approval of the settlement agreement by the court to ensure that the relief granted protects the public interest served by the statute at issue and in the appropriate relief necessary to prevent the governmental regulatory effort from inordinately burdening the real property.

CODING: Words stricken are deletions; words underlined are additions.
3 real property. If the actions of more than one governmental 4 entity, considering any settlement offers and ripeness 5 decisions, are responsible for the action that imposed the 6 inordinate burden on the real property of the property owner,
7 the court shall determine the percentage of responsibility 8 each such governmental entity bears with respect to the 9 inordinate burden. A governmental entity may take an 10 interlocutory appeal of the court's determination that the 11 action of the governmental entity has resulted in an 12 inordinate burden. An interlocutory appeal does not 13 automatically stay the proceedings; however, the court may 14 stay the proceedings during the pendency of the interlocutory 15 appeal. If the governmental entity does not prevail in the 16 interlocutory appeal, the court shall award to the prevailing 17 property owner the costs and a reasonable attorney fee 18 incurred by the property owner in the interlocutory appeal.
19 (b) Following its determination of the percentage of 20 responsibility of each governmental entity, and following the 21 resolution of any interlocutory appeal, the court shall 22 impose a jury to determine the total amount of compensation 23 to the property owner for the loss in value due to the 24 inordinate burden to the real property. The award of 25 compensation shall be determined by calculating the difference
26 in the fair market value of the real property, as it existed 27 at the time of the governmental action at issue, as though the 28 owner had the ability to attain the reasonable investment-29 backed expectation or was not left with uses that are 30 unreasonable, whichever the case may be, and the fair market 31 value of the real property, as it existed at the time of the 32 governmental action at issue, as inordinately burdened, have resolved the claim fairly to the property owner if the settlement offer has been accepted by the property owner, based upon the knowledge available to the governmental entity or entities and the property owner during the 100-day notice period.

3. The determination of total reasonable costs and attorney fees pursuant to this paragraph shall be made by the court and not by the jury. Any proposed settlement offer or any proposed ripeness decision, except for the final written settlement offer or the final written ripeness decision, and any negotiations or rejections in regard to the formulation of either the settlement offer or the ripeness decision, are inadmissible in the subsequent proceeding established by this section except for the purposes of the determination pursuant to this paragraph.
(d) Within 15 days after the execution of any settlement pursuant to this section, or the issuance of any judgment pursuant to this section, the governmental entity shall provide a copy of the settlement or judgment to the Department of Legal Affairs.
(7)(a) The circuit court may enter any orders necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section and to make final determinations to effectuate relief available under this section.
(b) An award or payment of compensation pursuant to this section shall operate to grant to and vest in any governmental entity by whom compensation is paid the right, title, and interest in rights of use for which the compensation has been paid, which interests may become transferrable development rights to be held, sold, or otherwise disposed of by the governmental entity. When there governmental action through lawfully available administrative or judicial proceedings, the time for bringing an action under this section is tolled until the conclusion of such proceedings.

(12) No cause of action exists under this section as to the application of any law enacted on or before the date of adjournment sine die of the 1995 Regular Session of the Legislature, or as to the application of any rule, regulation, or ordinance adopted, or formally noticed for adoption, on or before that date. A subsequent amendment to any such law, rule, regulation, or ordinance gives rise to a cause of action under this section only to the extent that the application of the amended language imposes an inordinate burden apart from the law, rule, regulation, or ordinance being amended.

(13) This section does not affect the sovereign immunity of government.

Section 2. (1) This section may be cited as the "Florida Land Use and Environmental Dispute Resolution Act."

(2) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Development order" means any order, or notice of proposed state or regional governmental agency action, which is or will have the effect of granting, denying, or granting with conditions an application for a development permit, and includes the recasting of a specific parcel. Actions by the state or a local government on comprehensive plan amendments are not development orders.

(b) "Development permit" means any building permit, zoning permit, subdivision approval, certification, special exception, variance, or any other similar action of local government, as well as any permit authorized to be issued under state law by state, regional, or local government which

CODING: Words stricken are deletions; words underlined are additions.
(5) Any person who believes that a development order, or either separately or in conjunction with other development orders, or an enforcement action of a governmental entity, is unreasonable or unfairly burdens the use of his real property, may apply within 30 days after receipt of the order or notice of the governmental action for relief under this section.

(6) To initiate a proceeding under this section, an owner must file a request for relief with the elected or appointed head of the governmental entity that issued the development order or orders, or that initiated the enforcement action. The head of the governmental entity may not charge the owner for the request for relief and must forward the request for relief to the special master who is mutually agreed upon by the owner and the governmental entity within 10 days after receipt of the request.

(5) The governmental entity with whom a request has been filed shall also serve a copy of the request for relief by United States mail or by hand delivery to:
(a) Owners of real property contiguous to the owner's property at the address on the current county tax roll.
(b) Any substantially affected party who submitted oral or written testimony, sworn or unsworn, of a substantive nature which stated with particularity objections to or support for any development order or enforcement action at issue. Notice under this paragraph is required only if that party indicated a desire to receive notice of any subsequent special master proceedings occurring on the development order or enforcement action. Each governmental entity must maintain in its files relating to particular development orders a mailing list of persons who have presented oral or written testimony and who have requested notice.

(6) The request for relief must contain:
(a) A brief statement of the owner's proposed use of the property.
(b) A summary of the development order or description of the enforcement action. A copy of the development order or the documentation of an enforcement action at issue must be attached to the request.

(a) A brief statement of the impact of the development order or enforcement action on the ability of the owner to achieve the proposed use of the property.

(d) A certificate of service showing the parties, including the governmental entity, served.

(7) The special master may require other information in the interest of gaining a complete understanding of the request for relief.

(e) The special master may conduct a hearing on whether the request for relief should be dismissed for failing to include the information required in subsection (d). If the special master dismisses the case, the special master shall allow the owner to amend the request and refile. Failure to file an adequate amended request within the time specified shall result in a dismissal with prejudice as to this proceeding.

(f) By requesting relief under this section, the owner consents to grant the special master and the parties reasonable access to the real property with advance notice at such time and in a manner acceptable to the owner of the real property.
(10)(a) Before initiating a special master proceeding
1 to review a local development order or local enforcement
2 action, the owner must exhaust all nonjudicial local 3 government administrative appeals if the appeals take no 4 longer than 6 months. Once nonjudicial local administrative 5 appeals are exhausted and the development order or enforcement 6 action is final, or within 4 months after issuance of the 7 development order or notice of the enforcement action if the 8 owner has pursued local administrative appeals even if the 9 appeals have not been concluded, the owner may initiate a 10 proceeding under this section. Initiation of a proceeding 11 tolls the time for seeking judicial review of a local 12 government development order or enforcement action until the 13 special master’s recommendation is acted upon by the local 14 government. Election by the owner to file for judicial review
15 of a local government development order or enforcement action
16 prior to initiating a proceeding under this section waives 17 right to a special master proceeding.
18 19 (b) If an owner requests special master relief from a 20 development order or enforcement action issued by a state or 21 local agency, the time for challenging agency action under 22 section 120.57, Florida Statutes, is tolled. If an owner
23 requests to bring a proceeding under section 120.57, Florida
24 Statutes, before initiating a special master proceeding, then 25 the owner waives any right to a special master proceeding 26 unless all parties consent to proceeding to mediation.
27
28 (11) The initial party to the proceeding is the 29 governmental entity that issues the development order to the 30 owner or that is taking the enforcement action. In those 31 instances when the development order or enforcement action is 32 the culmination of a process involving more than one 33 governmental entity or when a complete resolution of all 34 relevant issues would require the active participation of more 35 than one governmental entity, the special master may, upon 36 application of a party, join those governmental entities or 37 parties to the proceeding if it will assist in affecting the 38 purposes of this section, and those governmental entities or 39 parties joined shall actively participate in the proceeding.
40 41 (12) Within 25 days after receipt of the request for 42 relief, or any cause of land contiguous to the owner’s property 43 and any substantially affected person who submitted oral or 44 written testimony, proof or answer, of a substantive nature 45 which stated with particularity objections to or support for 46 the development order or enforcement action at issue may 47 request to participate in the proceeding. Those persons may 48 be permitted to participate in the hearing but shall not be 49 granted party or intervenor status. The participation of each 50 person is limited to addressing issues raised regarding 51 alternatives, variances, and other types of adjustment to the 52 development order or enforcement action which may impact their 53 substantial interests, including denial of the development 54 order or application of the enforcement action.
55 56 (13) Each party must make efforts to assure that those 57 persons qualified by training or experience necessary to 58 address issues raised by the request or by the special master 59 and further qualified to address alternatives, variances, and 60 other types of modifications to the development order or 61 enforcement action are present at the hearing.
62
63 (14) The special master may subpoena any nonparty 64 witnesses in the state when the special master believes will 65 aid in the disposition of the matter.
66
67 CODING: Words stricken are deletions; words underlined are additions.
(15)(a) The special master shall hold a hearing within 45 days after his receipt of the request for relief unless a different date is agreed to by all the parties. The hearing must be held in the county in which the property is located.

(b) The special master must provide notice of the place, date, and time of the hearing to all parties and any other persons who have requested such notice at least 45 days prior to the hearing.

(16)(a) Fifteen days following the filing of a request for relief, the governmental entity that issued the development order or that is taking the enforcement action shall file a response to the request for relief with the special master together with a copy to the owner. The response must set forth in reasonable detail the position of the governmental entity regarding the matters alleged by the owner. The response must include a brief statement explaining the public purpose of the regulations as to which the development order or enforcement action is issued.

(b) Any governmental entity that is added by the special master as a party must file a response to the request for relief prior to the hearing but not later than 15 days following its admission.

(c) Any party may incorporate in the response to the request for relief a request to be dropped from the proceeding. The request to be dropped must set forth facts and circumstances relevant to aid the special master in ruling on the request. All requests to be dropped must be disposed of prior to conducting any hearings on the merits of the request for relief.

(17) In all respects, the hearing must be informal and open to the public and does not require the use of an attorney. The hearing must operate at the direction and under the supervision of the special master. The object of the hearing is to focus attention on the impact of the governmental action giving rise to the request for relief and to explore alternatives to the development order or enforcement action and other regulatory effects of the governmental entities in order to recommend relief, when appropriate, to the owner.

(a) The first responsibility of the special master is to facilitate a resolution of the conflict between the owner and governmental entities to the end that some modification of the owner's proposed use of the property or adjustment in the development order or enforcement action or regulatory effects by one or more of the governmental parties may be reached.

Accordingly, the special master shall act as a facilitator or mediator between the parties in an effort to effect a mutually acceptable solution. The parties shall be represented at the mediation by persons with authority to bind their respective parties to a solution, or by persons with authority to recommend a solution directly to the persons with authority to bind their respective parties to a solution.

(b) If an acceptable solution is not reached by the parties after the special master's attempt at mediation, the special master shall consider the facts and circumstances set forth in the request for relief and the responses and any other information produced at the hearing in order to determine whether the action by the governmental entity or entities is unreasonable or unfairly burdens the real property.

(c) In conducting the hearing, the special master may hear from all parties and witnesses that are necessary to an understanding of the matter. The special master shall weigh all information offered at the hearing.

CODING: Words stricken are deletions; words underlined are additions.

(10) The circumstances to be examined in determining whether the development order or enforcement action, or the development order or enforcement action in conjunction with regulatory efforts of other governmental parties, is unreasonable or unfairly burdensome use of the property may include, but are not limited to:

(a) The history of the real property, including when it was purchased, how much was purchased, where it is located, the nature of the title, the composition of the property, and how it was initially used.

(b) The history or development and use of the real property, including what was developed on the property and by whom, if it was subdivided and how, and to whom it was sold, whether plots were filled or recorded, and whether infrastructure and other public services or improvements may have been dedicated to the public.

(c) The history of environmental protection and land use controls and other regulations, including how and when the land was classified, how use was prescribed, and what changes in classifications occurred.

(d) The present nature and extent of the real property, including its natural and altered characteristics.

(e) The reasonable expectations of the owner at the time of acquisition, or immediately prior to the implementation of the regulations at issue, whichever is later, under the regulations then in effect and under common law.

(f) The public purpose sought to be achieved by the development order or enforcement action, including the nature and magnitude of the problem addressed by the underlying regulations on which the development order or enforcement action is based; whether the development order or enforcement action is necessary to the achievement of the public purpose;
and whether there are alternative development orders or enforcement action conditions that would achieve the public purpose and allow for reduced restrictions on the use of the property.

(g) Uses authorized for and restrictions placed on similar property.

(h) Any other information determined relevant by the special master.

(i) Within 14 days after the conclusion of the hearing, the special master shall prepare and file with all parties a written recommendation.

(ii) If the special master finds that the development order at issue, or the development order or enforcement action in combination with the actions or regulations of other regulatory efforts of other governmental entities, is unreasonable or does not unfairly burden the use of the owner's property, the special master must recommend that the development order or enforcement action remain undisturbed and the proceeding shall end, subject to the owner's retention of all other available remedies.

(iii) If the special master finds that the development order or enforcement action, or the development order or enforcement action in combination with the actions or regulations of other governmental entities, is unreasonable or unfairly burdensome use of the owner's property, the special master, with the owner's consent to proceed, may recommend one or more alternatives that protect the public interest served by the development order or enforcement action and regulations.
at issue but allow for reduced restraints on the use of the owner's real property, including, but not limited to:
1. An adjustment of land development or permit standards or other provisions controlling the development or use of land.
2. Increases or modifications in the density, intensity, or use of areas of development.
3. The transfer of development rights.
4. Land use or exchanges.
5. Mitigation, including payments in lieu of permits litigation.
6. Location on the least sensitive portion of the property.
7. Conditioning the amount of development or use permitted.
8. A requirement that issues be addressed on a more comprehensive basis than a single proposed use or development.
9. Issuance of the development order, a variance, special exception, or other extraordinary relief, including withdrawal of the enforcement action.
10. Purchase of the real property, or an interest therein, by an appropriate governmental entity.
(c) This subsection does not prohibit the owner and governmental entity from entering into an agreement as to the permissible use of the property prior to the special master entering a recommendation. An agreement for a permissible use must be incorporated in the special master's recommendation.
(d) The special master's recommendation is a public record under chapter 119, Florida Statutes. However, actions or statements of all participants to the special master shall be privileged.}

CODING: Words stricken are deletions; words underlined are additions.
the acceptance or notification, or if a governmental entity rejects the special master's recommendation, the governmental entity must issue a written decision within 30 days that describes as specifically as possible the use or uses available to the subject real property.
(23) The procedure established by this section may not continue longer than 165 days, unless the period is extended by agreement of the parties. A decision describing available uses constitutes the last prerequisite to judicial action and the matter is ripe or final for subsequent judicial proceedings unless the owner initiates a proceeding under section 120.57, Florida Statutes. If the owner brings a proceeding under section 120.57, Florida Statutes, the matter is ripe when the proceeding culminates in a final order whether further appeal is available or not.
(24) The procedure created by this section is not itself, nor does it create, a judicial cause of action. Once the governmental entity acts on the special master's recommendation, the owner may elect to file suit in a court of competent jurisdiction. Invoking the procedures of this section in not a condition precedent to filing a civil action.
(25) Regardless of the action the governmental entity takes on the special master's recommendation, a recommendation that the development order or enforcement action, or the development order or enforcement action in combination with other governmental regulatory actions, is unreasonable or unfairly burdens the use of the owner's real property may serve as an indication of sufficient hardship to support modification, variances, or special exceptions to the application of statutes, rules, regulations, or ordinances to the subject property.

(26) A special master's recommendation under this section constitutes data in support of, and a support document for, a comprehensive plan or comprehensive plan amendment, but is not, in and of itself, dispositive of a determination of compliance with chapter 163, Florida Statutes. Any comprehensive plan amendment necessary to carry out the approved recommendation of a special master under this section is except from the twelve-year limit on plan amendments and
