

Schools on Solar

Supported by Your Own Utilities and Leon County Schools

What is Schools on Solar?

The Schools on Solar program was established as a partnership between the City of Tallahassee and Leon County Schools in 2007. The City of Tallahassee funded the initial installations of PV and thermal systems at Oak Ridge Elementary School and Montford Middle School.

Customers of the City of Tallahassee Utilities can support the program by making a one-time or monthly contribution of any amount on their utility bill. Contributions will be used to purchase classroom solar kits, provide teacher training in renewable energy, and build additional systems at other schools.

Please visit www.sunviewer.net/portals/YOU to view each of the school's solar energy production through an interactive web portal.

"This partnership will be rewarding to the entire community as it teaches our children and future leaders about the value and importance of renewable energy," said Mayor John Marks.

School Superintendent Jackie Pons said, "Once our students get to see this technology, to experiment with it first hand, they take with them the experience that there are other ways to provide electricity for our community, and they influence their parents, friends and other family members."
